

Fashion

Fashion Events

IGTV Fashion Lookbook Callout

Submission Deadline: Tuesday 14th July 2020

20 second video submission of you modelling your favourite traditional South Asian clothes. Alongside this is the South Asian Fashion Photo Competition.

Panel Discussion – Are South Asian designs inherently embedded within British textile designs?

5th July 2020

2pm

This will be a panel discussion with South Asian & British textile design experts to discuss the extent of how the South Asian design is embedded within and shaped aspects of British textile design. Panel Members. Val Jackson, UK based Textile Artist, specialising in South Asian & British textile Design. Hosted by Taslima Ahmad, Textiles & Fashion Designer and Founder/Creative Director, Creative Design & Manufacture UK.

creativedesignmanufacture.com

@UKCDM

An audience with Deep Kailey

Tuesday 28th July 2020

6pm

Why does it matter? Fashion culture and self belief. Deep Kailey is London based cultural entrepreneur & creative director.

@iamdeepkailey

Golden Tones Workshop

1st August 2020
12pm

An hour workshop with Pakistani make-up artist Bina Khan unpacking myths around colour tones & tips on how to celebrate South Asian skin

Everyday Drapes

Daily from Monday 3rd August 2020

Join us for 14 days of draping, embracing the sari as an everyday garment. Curated by Malika Verma, Founder of Border&Fall and creator of The Sari Series: A Digital Anthology of Drape. Learn about new drapes each day!

thesariseries.com

Street Culture and the Sari

Wednesday 5th August 2020

Join journalist and influencer Simran Randhawa and Emilia Bergmans of VegnonVeg, India's leading sneaker shop as they discuss self expression, street culture and the sari. Moderated by Malika Verma Kayshap, Founder of Border&Fall.

vegnonveg.com/

Panel Discussion - Cultural Appropriation VS Cultural Appreciation

7th August 2020
7pm

Cultural appropriation can be defined as 'cherry picking' aspects of an individual's culture and ignoring the significant elements for the purpose of belittling it as a trend. This is most common through fashion, where cultural clothing/accessories are claimed and taken for their own personal interest. Our panellists- Shamima & Alicya (Co-founders, Electric Bazaar) and Sabriyah Saeed (former Vice President, The Oxford Union) will be discussing examples of appropriation and what Electric Bazaar does to encourage cultural appreciation. Hosted by Nazma Noor (Award Nominated Blogger).

electric-bazaar.com

Panel Discussion on Fashion

Monday 17th August 2020

The fashion industry loves South Asian until it's time to hire

17th August 2020

7pm

Fabrics, motifs, embroidery, design, colours, prints from South Asian have inspired countless fashion house across the world. Yet South Asian are one of the least represented in the fashion industry. South Asian fashion entrepreneurs have begun creating their own platforms and it's working. Panellists include Namal Lanka, Ash Allbhai, Rahemur Rahman, Sahani Gunasekara, Ruby Bukhari and Neesha Champaneria – might not make it

@rahemurrahman @Ruthlessbukhari @aashionista @kanyalonson @namallanka

The fashion industry loves South Asian until it's time to hire

17 August 2020

7pm

Fabrics, motifs, embroidery, design, colours, prints from South Asian have inspired countless fashion house across the world. Yet South Asian are one of the least represented in the fashion industry. South Asian fashion entrepreneurs have begun creating their own platforms and it's working. Panellists include Namal Lanka, Ash Allbhai, Rahemur Rahman, Sahani Gunasekara, Ruby Bukhari and Neesha Champaneria – might not make it

@rahemurrahman @Ruthlessbukhari @aashionista @kanyalonson @namallanka

